SIAM AND SCOUTS

"More Boy Scout stamps. Gr-r-r-r. The Wild Tiger kind! Heap big khaki-clad lad in Siam, he have special stamps printed in honor!" said Kent B. Stiles, the Stamp Editor of Boys' Life, in the January issue of that magazine.

"For in Siam the Boy Scouts are known as Wild Tiger—and in furtherance of the Boy Scout movement in that far-off kingdom a special series of postal adhesives has been issued. The face of a wild-looking striped beast of the jungle has been overprinted on Siam's labels of the issues of 1906, 1912 and 1919—that is, on certain values—and on some of the stamps the surcharge includes the English-printed inscription 'Scout's Fund.'"

"At least eleven varieties of these Scout specimens have appeared. On the 2 satangs orange brown, 3s. emerald green and 15s. blue of the 1912 set; on the 1 tical of the 1906 issue; and on the 5s. on 6s. carmine rose and 10s. on 12s. gray and brown of the 1919 series, the overprinted 'Wild Tiger' device is restricted, in the first scout series, to the tiger's head and a Siamese inscription meaning 'Scout's Fund.' On the 2s. brown orange, 3s. emerald green and 15s. blue of the 1912 set; the 1 t. deep blue and brown orange of the 1906 issue; and the 10s. on 12s. of the 1919 series the device includes, in addition to the Tiger's head and the Siamese inscription, the inscription 'Scout Fund' also in English.

"The overprinted tiger's head is crudely done. The letters of the inscription are in circular form, nearly surrounding the head. The part of the surcharge appearing in English was done apparently by hand, in grayblack ink.

"These scout adhesives sold in advance of their face value, and the extra moneys obtained in this way were devoted to the scout movement. The 2s. denomination, for example, sold for five satangs, the stamp paying postage to the amount of the face value, two satangs, while the extra three satangs went into the 'Wild Tiger' fund. Similarly the 3s. sold for five satangs, the 5s. for twenty-five satangs, the 10s. for fifteen satangs, the 15s. for twenty satangs and the 1 t. for one tical twenty-five satangs.

"What are these stamps worth from the collector's viewpoint? It is yet too early to determine this, for it is not known in this country how many copies of each stamp were thus overprinted. The 1 t. varieties are said to be rare.

"It was at first reported that the 'Wild Tiger' labels were good for postage only within Siam, but it transpires that copies have prepaid postage on letters to foreign lands."

A Dunsany Afternoon

The Literature Department of the Women's Community Club promises an unusually interesting afternoon on Tuesday, January the 25th. There will be introduced to us afresh one of our most noted modern writers, Lord Dunsany, a man with imagination "as elfish as moonlight and mist."

The program is so planned to give us an insight into the beauty of his varied forms, not the least of which will be the dramatic sketch which will end the afternoon.

Dunsany is not only the master but the maker of the countries to which he takes us on such fascinating jaunts.

Each story is a jewel into which we look long with ever new delight.

The afternoon is one which no Club member can afford to miss.

Mr. McGowan who was for many years connected with the Berks County Agriculture Society as well as a member of the State Legislature for several terms, is now specializing in apple growing. His orchards, in bearing time are a revelation to anyone who has not seen apples growing according to modern scientific methods.

Tercentenary Day at The Community Club

The regular meeting was largely attended on Tuesday when Rev. William V. Berg addressed the club on the "Pilgrim Spirit." He condensed his thought in saying that the "Pilgrim Purpose" was to retain the good of the past and gain new achievements; that they expressed their "Ideals" in their town halls, churches, and schools; that they had a "Loyalty" to these ideals; and that they had the faculty of seeing "God" in everything. Then they expressed their "Righteousness" in giving a square deal and having respect for law and order. They were a people who gloried in "Industry," a man being respected for his works rather than his worthlessness, and they possessed what is known as read "Manhood." Uniquely the initial letter of these traits forming the word PILGRIM. Mr. Berg called attention to the parallel we might make in Americanism today, that as they had hardships and privations we have gigantic problems to be solved today, as they possessed the sturdy characteristics to conquer, we need even greater stability to hold to ideals worthy of our ancestors.

There was a goodly display of local talent on Tuesday. Mrs. Robert Wood gave an account of the recent celebrations in Massachusetts, where Plymouth Rock has been restored to its original site. Mrs. E. T. Van Auken read a portion of Governor Bradford's "Log of the Mayflower," and Mrs. E. Muschamp read the poem which LeBaron Russell Briggs, Dean of Harvard University, contributed at the Plymouth Celebration.

The Club Orchestra rendered "Iphigenia in Tauris Hymn;" Beethoven's "Theme from Serenade, Op. 8;" and "O Hills, O Vales," by Mendelssohn, under Mrs. Joseph Barelay, leader.

The Club Chorus, conducted by Professor Spratt, gave the "Hymn of the Pilgrims," by Edward MacDowell, and "Thine Eyes So Blue and Tender," by E. Lassen.

The hostess for the afternoon was Mrs. Harold Penno. Her aids were Mrs. R. Case, Mrs. G. Gilpin, Jr., Mrs. C. Haist, Mrs. H. Hillegas, Mrs. C. McKee, and Mrs. G. Orth. The New England refreshments served by the committee gave a delightful finish to the meeting.

JOLLIFICATION NIGHT

The Community Club are to have a jollification night to which they may bring their friends. It will start at 6 o'clock on Thursday, January 27, with a home cooked turkey supper and pie. The ticket for the supper will be $1.50. After the supper is served there will be various amusements such as dancing in the community room, cards in the lobby, and table-games in the game room. A fire burning in the fire place, music, and light refreshments during the evening will all add to the joy of the occasion. Remember this date. It will be too good to miss.

Profit, Not Prophet.

A colored gentleman named Joshua Johnson was arrested for making whiskey. When his case was called the judge jokingly asked him if he was any relation to the Joshua that made the sun stand still.

"No, sah," replied Joshua, "I'se no 'lation to dat guy, but I'se the real and 'riginal Joshua that made de moon shine."

Editorial

To the Editor of Our Town:

I hope in view of the editorial issued last week regarding the "Dog Law," our policemen and citizens will all get on the job and help to clear our town of all stray dogs. One day last week just when school had been dismissed, I counted nine dogs on Haverford Avenue at the Post-office without any collars. Let each one do their part regarding the Law and not wait for the other fellow.

Flotow.

The Editor invites comments from Our Town readers with reference to the increased water rates, including the extraordinary increased charges. As the situation now stands Narberth householders buy their water at an increase of over 1000% than charged by the city of Philadelphia.

SERVICE AND CONSUMPTION CHARGES

To Our Customers:

Prices of commodities of all sorts are based upon cost of production. Rates for public utility service, up to comparatively recent years, were fixed in a more or less haphazard way, very little attention having been paid to the unit cost of service, so long as the gross income was sufficient. With the advent of Public Service Commissions throughout the country the question of cost of service was gone into very thoroughly, particularly the cost of serving various classes of consumers.

The investigations conducted disclose the fact that many consumers were paying more than their fair share of the cost of service, while others were paying less. This resulted in the adoption of a new method of fixing public utility rates.

It is now generally recognized that there are two distinct classes of service which a water company renders to its customers:

First: The Company must keep its plant ready at all times to serve a customer when service is demanded. To do this pumping stations, reservoirs, transmission and distribution mains, with their accessories must be maintained. The interest, taxes, depreciation and a certain portion of the operating expenses must be met regardless as to whether the consumers take any water or not. These expenses are known as "ready to serve" costs and it has been deemed proper that this class of service should be covered by a rate independent of the charge for water actually consumed, therefore, a service charge is made to cover the above-mentioned service.

The service charge to individual consumers is not determined by the amount of water which one consumes but by the demand which the consumer can put upon the Company's plant, this being an indication of the amount of plant at the disposal of the customer. The size of the meter is regarded as the most equitable manner of determining the amount of demand which a customer can put upon the plant, consequently, in our case, this is the basis for the service charge.

Many of our customers have been under the impression that the service charge is for the use of the meter. The above explanation will show that this is not the case.

Second: When the customer calls for service, or in other words uses water, another form of expense or cost must be met. In order to deliver the service water must be collected from the streams, pumped, filtered and transported to customers' premises in any quantity desired, at any time of the day or night. In order to render this service, labor, fuel, chemicals and numerous other expenses are incurred. The aggregate of these expenses represents the cost of delivering service, these expenses being entirely distinct from the "ready to serve" costs, and a separate charge is made to consumers for the actual amount of water consumed.

The aggregate of the service and consumption charges is considered the proper amount each customer should pay for the service rendered.

This form of water rate schedule is the most equitable form that has so far been devised. Under it each customer pays as nearly as can be calculated, his equitable share of the cost of the service he receives.

DEATH OF MR. STITES' FATHER

On Saturday, January eight, at his home in Cape May, N. J., Mr. Edgar Page Stites passed away.

Mr. Stites, Senior, was a veteran of the Civil War, a writer of gospel hymns and had many interests in South Jersey. He had led a long and useful life, having reached the age of eight-five.

The many friends and associates of our esteemed fellow citizen Mr. Fletcher W. Stites join in expressing their sorrow in the loss of his father.

OLD CARDS

What do you do with your Christmas and New Year's cards—you know, those hundreds of good wishes that are so artistic and so readily stuffed away in a drawer and forgotten.

Then why not send them to Mrs. William R. Philler, at Haverford. Mrs. Philler is the only person so far known who has discovered a use for Christmas cards after Christmas. She is head of the social service committee of the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

She gives hundreds of cards she receives each year from various donors to patients in the hospital, equips them with scissors, paste and scrapbooks, and they forget they are ill.

The hours of convalescence drag pretty heavily and not only youngsters but grownups seem to be able to forget suffering and discomfort in the peculiar pleasure of cutting out Christmas card devices and similar things and pasting them in a book.

Mrs. Philler deserves the Nobel Prize, and she also deserves to receive all the old Christmas and New Year's cards you have. Send them along.

Sure, He Can.

Joe—"Even a policeman cannot arrest the flight of time!"

Pete—"Can't he? Why, only this morning I saw a policeman go into a store and stop a few minutes."

RENT, FUEL AND LIGHT COSTS SHOW INCREASE

Washington, Jan. 9.—Expenditures of the average American family for rent, fuel and light not only resisted but rather ran counter, in the last six months of 1920, to the general tendency toward a lower level in prices, it was shown today in figures compiled by the Department of Labor's Bureau of labor statistics.

The figures made public cover expenditures by average families in Philadelphia,

Detroit Baltimore,
Cleveland Chicago,
New York San Francisco,
Oakland and Seattle.

The wide territorial range was accepted as giving the figures more than local significance.

The average cost of living in the cities named, at the beginning of the new year, was 92.2 per cent. over the average cost in 1914, while on July 1st, 1920, it was 115.1 per cent.

Using the 1914 costs as a basis, the percentage increased cost of the various items making up the average family budget in those cities was as follows:

July 1, 1920	Jan. 1, 1921
Food 110.9	Food 75.6
Clothing ... 191.3	Clothing ... 159.5
Housing ... 41.6	Housing ... 49.5
Fuel & Light. 57.6	Fuel & Light. 79.0
Furniture & Furnishings. 191.8	Furniture & Furnishings. 181.9

The percentage increase in the cost of living in the eight cities over the 1914 cost was given as follows:

July 1, 1920	Jan. 1, 1921
Baltimore... 114.3	Baltimore... 96.8
Cleveland... 116.8	Cleveland... 104.0
Chicago... 114.6	Chicago... 93.3
Detroit... 136.0	Detroit... 118.6
New York... 119.2	New York... 101.4
Philadelphia 113.5	Philadelphia 100.7
San Francisco & Oakland. 96.0	San Francisco & Oakland. 85.1
Seattle... 110.5	Seattle... 94.1

 The Westminster Circle are making great plans for the entertainment to be

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.
 As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 3 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

H. Lumpkin, writing of "A Hike in Alaska" in Boys' Life for January. "It is not such a tremendous sheet of water. Not nearly so large as many other Alaskan lakes, being some three miles long by a half mile wide. It lies in a sort of depression, its surface about three or four hundred feet above the level of Moose Creek. Its bed was evidently scooped out by glacial action somewhere back in those dim ages they tell us about. You can see, even now, the evidences of the glacial moraines. Some plough, those glaciers!

"Now, here are the things they tell of that lake. One, that it has fish so large that a specimen that a man hooked pulled him out of the boat into the lake. If that isn't a good fish story, then you try to go me one better. Other stories that I think are well authenticated are these. That in winter, under the ice is heard a rumbling, groaning sound. So much so that, although the winter trail lies straight across it, the Indians refuse to travel it, and go all the way round. That in summer there rise periodically great bubbles of gas of some kind, that bubble, and bubble, and finally die away. I talked with those who have seen this phenomenon. Then two things I found for myself. First, the lake is very deep. It is sparkling and clear, and shelves rapidly, a few feet from shore to an unknown depth. Second, it does teem with fish, because I saw them, although I do not know the variety, for having no proper tackle, we did not catch any. The ones I saw would average two to three pounds. No monsters. But who can say what may inhabit those sparkling depths? Ugh!!"

X-RAY DENTISTRY

The up-to-date dentist now-a-days makes an X-Ray picture of every tooth separately, which may need treatment. Nothing is left to chance. If you have a toothache he will place a small photographic plate, say an inch square, inside your mouth back of the troublesome tooth. The X-Ray machine is then turned on for a second or so and the plate is removed and developed. It will be found to contain an exact life-size photograph of the tooth, which will show exactly what is going on inside. With this photograph before him the dentist will know exactly what he is doing and

Benjamin Franklin - - Printer

The observance of Franklin's Birthday, January 17th, is very typical of the man

He crammed some useful work into every minute of his active life. His birthday is celebrated not with closed shops, but with all the activities of a busy day.

His life and teachings point the way to success through thrift of time and resources. All over the United States, on January 17, people now observe NATIONAL THRIFT DAY.

The world gave him many titles, statesman, philosopher, scientist, inventor, teacher. He chose the most modest of all—Printer.

Like Franklin, this Institution leads the way to success and prosperity through thrift of time and money. Under a modest title—banker—we serve faithfully as financial agent, advisor and friend.

is able to get at the trouble without giving you a single unnecessary jab.—Boys' Life for January.

Inside Information

Father: Willie, go into the house and get something to hold these apples I brought home, the sack tore open.

Willie: I've got something right here, Dad.

Father: What?
Willie: My stomach.—January Boys' Life.

Or Just Over Two Feet

Bill: How long are the legs of the world's tallest man?

Tom: How should I know?

Bill: All the way down to the ground, at least.—January Boys' Life.

Puss-Puss

There was a young man from the city, Who saw what he thought was a kitty,

He gave it a pat, And soon after that,

He buried his clothes, what a pity.
—January Boys' Life.

Both Tired

Farmer: What sort of a car is that?
Tourist: An automobile. What sort of a machine is yours?

Farmer: An auto-mow-grass, but it won't.—January Boys' Life.

Too Short a Notice

Father (To Sammy, coming home in a bedraggled condition): Great Scott! how you look!

Sammy: Yes, pa, I fell in a mud hole.

Father: What! and with your new pants on.

Sammy: Yes, I didn't have time to take them off.—January Boys' Life.

Hay

Tenderfoot: A donkey was tied to a rope six feet long, and 18 feet away there was a bundle of hay, and the donkey wanted to get at the hay. How did he manage to?

First Class Scout: He gave up.

Tenderfoot: Oh, no. He just walked up to the hay and ate it.

F. C. S.: But you said it was tied to a rope six feet long.

Tenderfoot: So it was. But you see, the rope wasn't tied to anything.

—January Boys' Life.

Caught On

Pa to Bill: Don't you know it's wrong to fish on Sunday?

Bill: I'm not fishing. I'm only teaching this worm to swim.

—January Boys' Life.

Just Passing

Passerby: Well. How is business today, boys?

Tailor: Oh, just sew, sew.

Dentist: Down in the mouth.

Watchmaker: Mine's winding up.

Office Boy: Mine's picking up.

Farmer: Growing.

Druggist: I'm dispensing without help, today.

Passerby: passed away.—January Boys' Life.

Looking for a Bite

Tramp: Can you assist me along the road, mum?

Lady: Personally, I cannot, but I can unchain my dog and I know he will be pleased to do so.—January Boys' Life.

Plain

"Give me a plain soda without any flavor."

"What kind of a flavor would you like it without?"

"Oh! I'd like it without vanilla flavor."

"Sorry, sir! I am out of vanilla. You will have to have it without chocolate, sir."—January Boys' Life.

Tenderfoot: Say, First Class Scout, how is your garden coming?

First Class Scout: Well, by peach trees are all dead, but one of my fence posts is budding.—January Boys' Life.

Ask Dad.

Farmer's Scout Son—"Don't you like short tramps?"

Farmer—"No. Nor tall ones either."

A Mean Advantage.

Teacher—"How is it that Tommy knows his alphabet better than you do? He never forgets a single letter."

Sam—"Please, sir, his father's a post-man."

Coming Later.

Billy—"What are you drawing, Jim?"

Jimmy—"Why, a dog!"

Billy—"But where's its tail?"

Jimmy—"Oh, that's still in the ink bottle!"

Odd.

Slick—"Hi, Slack, you've got odd socks on!"

Slack—"So I have! Now, I wonder which is the odd one."

the consideration of other business matters usually attended to at the first January meeting of the Board was deferred.

At the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Harold D. Speakman Post 356, on Monday evening, it was decided that all dues for the present year must be paid on or before January 24 to the treasurer, Mrs. Rhoda Cutts, 211 Forrest Avenue.

Last call for returns on Christmas Seals. Please make your report today.

During the year 1920 the people of Narberth purchased over $4,000 worth of War Saving Stamps which were sold at the Narberth Post Office. And the good work has begun again. In the first week of the new year the sales were close to one hundred dollars.

The Narberth Office of the Merion Title & Trust Company has issued to date 800 cards to members of its 1921 Christmas Club. These cards have a maturity value of almost $50,000.

The Club will remain open during this month to enable those who have not as yet joined to enroll in this popular method of putting aside a certain amount each week to take care of extra expenses during the Christmas Season.
